Pulman car porters are to be replaced by women maids.

It will not be long before we realize how dry a bone actually is.

Don't be like clocks. Always going, but never getting anywhere.

You didn't forget to subscribe for those liberty bonds? No? That is right.

The Four-Minute-Man is as useful to his country as was the Minute-Man of old.

Nobody in Garrard sowed "wild oats" last week, they were too busy sowing wheat.

It must be very discouraging to ask for an armistice and have the only answer an army.

The Kaiser must have found long ago that it is much easier to start a war than to stop it.

After a long retirement from the general view Monastir is again making its bow to the public.

Germany will continue praying, but she will soon begin to pray for peace instead of for victory.

The Holy Land is at last freed from the Turk, and the whole civilized world rejoices with them.

Our prediction would have been that the gasless Sundays would remain about as long as the fine weather did.

The Spanish influenza must be pro-German, if one can judge by the way it is holding up the October draft contingent.

Americans always had the reputation of being drivers, and this may be the reason why they are meeting with so much success in France.

One subject of discussion will be cut off. It will be no use arguing whether beer is an innocent or harmful drink when it is an unattainable one.

It is seldom that a man is pleased at being called an ugly name, but the marines are proudly advertising the fact that the Germans term them "devil dogs".

A noted physician instructs his patients to turn six somersaults in the morning and six at night. He probably expects them all to take a turn for the better.

You undoubtedly have already an excellent collection of Liberty Bonds. We would strongly advise you to add to it as many specimens as possible of the Fourth Liberty loan.

"Gasless Sunday" has resulted in the saving of ten cargo ships of gasoline, or 500,000 barrels. This statement was made by Mark L. Requa in New York before a gathering of manufacturers and engineers.

Women's skirts in Paris are now worn ten to sixteen inches from the ground. Parisians evidently think it desirable to conserve modesty as well as dress goods for the duration of the war.

The war industries board has reduced the production of talking machines 40 per cent. It is to be hoped that we shall not have to increase our own talking by a like percentage. Some of us would find it difficult.

$245,000.00 SUBSCRIBED.

"OVER THE TOP" WITH GARRARD'S FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN.

Chairman B. F. Hudson, of the Fourth Liberty Loan, was about the happiest man in the county last night, unless it was the 100 or more canvassers, who had assembled at the court house, to hear the returns and the result of the drive made over the county yesterday in behalf of the Fourth Liberty Loan. As each committee read the report of its canvass, it was met with applause, for it was soon seen that the $100,000 needed yesterday morning, would be reached which would take Garrard "Over the Top" with the biggest loan she has yet offered to Uncle Sam.

When the list of committees had reported and Prof. Hopkins had summed up the totals received yesterday and chairman Hudson announced that about $115,000 had been subscribed during the day, which together with the volunteer subscriptions had carried Garrard beyond her quota, the total subscribed being about $245,000, the deafening applause which followed, it seemed, could have been heard by the Kaiser himself, had he been desirous of hearing such sad news, which meant such a blow to him and his people.

The court house bell was rung for ten minutes and several speeches were made and there was great jollification among the audience which by this time had practically filled the court room.

Many subscriptions are yet to be reported and when the final results are all in, the people of Garrard county will be made happy indeed for the glorious work that has been done in this campaign.

The quota assessed the county was $229,400 and many predict that it will reach $275,000 by the end of the next week.

The splendid work done by the ladies of the county, of which Mrs. George D. Robinson, was chairman, received favorable comment from all sides. Mrs. W. B. Burton was the chairman of the town precincts and the work done by her and her assistants brought wonderful results. Bryansville also came in for a great share of the applause and comment, when it was learned that she had about doubled her quota, subscribing nearly $50,000 from those two precincts.

TWO COLORED MEN DIE.

Two of Lancaster's well known and well liked colored men have died in the past week. John Wimsey, who for many years stayed with the Arnold livery stable died last Friday.

Alfred Robinson, who once lived near White Oak died at his home here last Monday night of tuberculosis, and was buried yesterday.

DR. MAYS PLACE TO SELL.

In this issue of the Record appears the advertisement of the United Realty and Development Company, of which Joe S. Haselden is manager, announcing the sale of that fine suburban property of the late Dr. N. Mays, which will be sold on October 12th.

This is one of the most desirable homes in Central Kentucky and when sold at any reasonable price, should prove a great bargain to the fortunate bidder.

FISHERMEN RETURN.

After a weeks outing on Rockcastle river, the Isaac Walton's returned last Monday morning and report a delightful trip. Their return was hastened by some of the boys, "getting off their feet" one of the number, Mr. Sausley Hughes being confined to his home all week suffering with a bad case of tonsillitis.

Jim Beazley still holds the record for the largest fish caught, he having landed two small mouth bass that weighed a little over four pounds each.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.

Mr. Banks Hudson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Banks Hudson, was seriously injured Saturday afternoon on Maple Avenue when the pony he was riding was struck by an automobile. He was thrown from the pony with great force and his left leg was broken below the knee and a very painful flesh wound was inflicted. He was taken to the Danville and Boyle County Hospital where he is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.—Danville Advocate.

WILSON'S ANSWER TO GERMANY'S PEACE PROPOSALS.

The complete withdrawal of the Teutonic Allies from occupied territories is essential to the commencement of any peace discussion with Germany. This fact has been made known to Germany and Austria-Hungary by President Wilson in answer to the recent appeal of the German Imperial Chancellor for an armistice on land and the sea and on the air and the discussion of possible means for ending the war. In addition President Wilson is desirous of knowing, and has directly asked the question, for whom the Imperial Chancellor was speaking when he advanced his proposal—whether it was for the constituted authorities of the empire who have been conducting the war, or for the German people. The President also desires to know if Germany in seeking peace accepts the terms already laid down by the President as the basis for the ceasing of hostilities.

GOV. MCCREARY PASSES AWAY.

James Bennett McCreary, the grandest roman of them all, passed away at his home in Richmond, Ky., Tuesday morning, after an illness of only a few days, he having been stricken suddenly in his room last Sunday morning. He was born in Madison county, July 8th, 1833. He entered Center College at Danville and graduated with the degree of A. B. when only nineteen years of age. He served under General Breckenridge and Morgan as Lieutenant Colonel in the Confederate army, Kentucky Cavalry. He was prominent in Kentucky politics almost his entire life, being elected Governor twice, to Congress several terms, United States Senator and other important offices. The funeral services will be conducted at his late home today and many are attending from Lancaster the last sad rites, of one who was loved and honored by a host of friends in Garrard.

GARRARD COUNTY BOY Donates His Mule To Three Worthy Causes.

With a heart and soul filled with patriotism, Master John Morgan Holtzclaw, twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holtzclaw, who live on the Crab Orchard pike, is taking a crack at the Kaiser by donating his three year old mule, "Sallie Durham", to three of the most worthy causes now before the American public.

This mule will be sold on the streets of Lancaster next county court day, October 28th, on the public square for the benefit of the new Gilberts Creek Church, the Lancaster Red Cross Chapter and the Y. M. C. A.

This is the plan he proposes and was worked out in his own simple way; The mule will be sold on the stepping bid plan, that is everyone bidding will pay the amount over and above the preceding bid, at the time of bidding; after all bids are exhausted, the mule will again be sold, this time to the highest bidder, who will get the mule. The entire proceeds of both sales will be turned over to Mr. J. W. Elmore, treasurer of the Gilberts Creek church, who will be instructed to divide the money into three equal parts, and it will be given to the associations named above.

"Sallie Durham" should bring a record price and the clever young donor will receive the thanks and plaudits for his unusual generosity.

This young man is investing every cent of his money in War Stamps and Liberty Bonds, an example that could well be emulated by older persons in this community.

TO THE PUBLIC.

All citizens of Garrard County, are called upon to report to this Board any male person between the ages of 18 to 45 inclusive, who are idle or who are not engaged in productive occupations or employments, under the Governments work or fight order as set forth in the second edition of the Selective Service Regulations. Local Board for Garrard County. Oct. 10th, 1918.

On account of the influenza epidemic, the Womans Club Library will be closed.

A question which time only will decide is whether France will become Americanized or whether our American boys will become Frenchified.

The Woman's Suffrage bill in the senate appears to have within one vote of enough to carry it. When the fate of the bill is decided, you may depend upon it that the senators will either be suffragists or sufferers at the hands of the suffragists.

The Red Cross purchases four and one half tons of chewing gum monthly for the American soldiers in France. The power used in chewing this gum would probably be quite sufficient to run a train of cars. But as there is no way to divert it to such a purpose, our boys may continue to chew.

Henry Ford, Michigan Republican running for United States Senator on the Democratic ticket, declares he has not put a dollar into the campaign and does not propose to put a single cent into it. From which we conclude Henry has about as much chance to be elected as one of his flivvers has to get a start on a cold morning with out awakening the whole neighborhood.

If you want the best military wrist watch made, get a Gruen of Morrow and McRoberts. 10-3t.

The Chicago and North-Western railroad is said to be abolishing its parlor cars. If the other railroads follow its example, how are we to distinguish the aristocracy of America? The world is certainly being made safe for democracy at a great rate.

CHANCE OF DEATH IS NOT GREAT IN BATTLE

People are often astonished to see a man with two or three gold stripes on his sleeve, but, according to the law of chance, the average soldier's prospects of being killed are not great. The average civilian, of course, has no excuse whatever for quaking.

If you are actually in khaki, taking the mean average, the odds against your being a casualty in any particular year might be reckoned, roughly, at about 6 to 1. But suppose you become a casualty? The odds are still about 6 to 1 against your being killed outright, while the following figures show your chances if you are wounded: Ninety per cent of the men who reach an advanced hospital recover. 95 per cent recover of those who pass into casualty clearing station, and only two men in every hundred die at a base hospital.

both because of the damnable vanity of one man with six unwounded sons.

What has the Kaiser given but words?

I see the checker-board fields of France, unhappy France, and our own marching up the road. I can hear voices floating back to me. Familiar phrases!

"You son-of-a-gun!"
"Old Scout!"
"You betcha!"
"Treat 'em rough!"

I HEAR songs. I hear Yankee Doodle sung as it was never sung before. I see!

hear the Battle Hymn of the Republic, and I have goose-pimples. "Oh, boy, where do we go from here?" I laugh, with a tight feeling in my throat.

Lean, lithe, tanned, swinging boys. The whites of their eyes are clear, their skins glow. Lord, the fresh life of them!

On, on, through aisles of plane trees. Sometimes a boy turns his head westward. What's he thinking of as he hears the Hell on earth. Folks back home. He isn't thinking in terms of Liberty Bonds. He's just sort of wondering if we're going to stick behind him.

BEFORE God, we are, boy! And the only way we can stick is to buy bonds. You are giving your life. What the devil do we care about our dollars? You'll get your coffee and slum if we have to pawn the shirts off our backs. That's the way we feel today. Never you doubt it.

Six billion dollars! Will we give it? Wait and see!

A Soldier Facing Death For You

Somewhere in France today, at this very minute, there is a soldier looking straight into the face of death.

He is doing this for you.

By night and day, in storm, in rain, in cold and gloom, facing a hundred deaths he never hesitates a minute but does his duty without a thought of hesitation and without a thought of reward.

What are you doing for him today?

When you think of that man don't you want to do something to prove that you appreciate what he is doing for you?

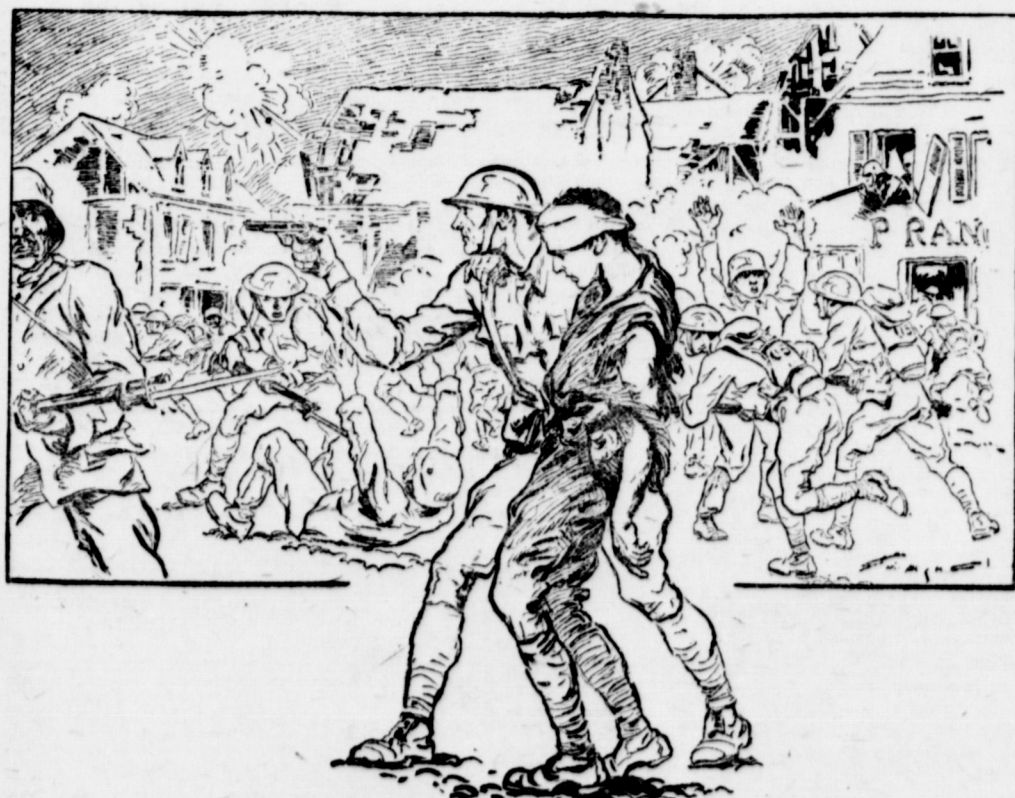

Of course you do. Then act on your desire and buy Liberty Bonds which will help to safeguard him and to bring him back home.

After you have bought all you can tell your friends to do the same.

It stirs every American heart

Who was not thrilled to read of the American soldier who supported a wounded comrade, and fought his way with the little detachment back through the Boches to the American lines?

That is only one deed of heroism among the many happening every day and looked on as a matter of course by the boys fighting for us over there. It shows the stuff that's in them. They are our own sons and brothers. Is the same stuff in us over here?

We have the opportunity at home to show our patriotism by other deeds of valor. We can fight and we MUST fight. And we must WIN, no matter how heavy our burdens may be.

Our former habits are the Huns we've got to battle with. We can't go on living as we used to. We can't go on spending our money for things we like. We must set up new standards—war standards—and stick to them—loyally.

From now on there can be only one standard for those of us who fight behind the lines—by saving and lending

We must buy bonds to our utmost

The Boy From Next Door

YOU used to see him swing gaily down the street, radiant with the vigor of his sturdy young manhood. One day he came home in khaki; then his father told you, with mingled pride and foreboding, that he had "gone across" with his regiment.

Yesterday his name was on the casualty list—"slightly wounded"—and your face grew grave as you thought of the sorrow and suspense of his father and mother.

From every city street, every village, every community, the boy next door has gone to war.

Think of these thousands of splendid young Americans, reared in comfort, peace, and security, now suddenly plunged into that roaring inferno of battle with the hardened hordes of a desperately determined foe.

What are you doing to help them?

What are you doing to arm and protect them, and bring them home in safety? Have you bought Liberty Bonds? Have you bought all you possibly can?

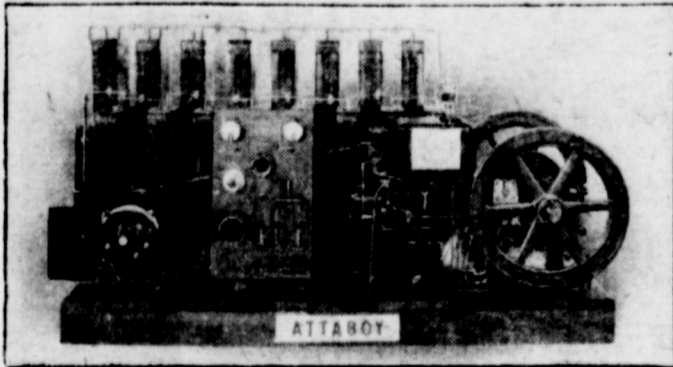

Has it occurred to you that one more Bond, bought with a little additional effort, may save the life of the boy from the next door?

INTERESTING LETTER.

Homer Tinsley writes interestingly of the work being done at West Point and Stithton, at the latter place he is now located.

In a recent letter to his mother, Mrs. Ida Tinsley, we quote:

"Spent the day at West Point on Transmission location from Louisville to Stithton. Muldraugh Hill is a mountain about three hundred feet high that separates the table lands of Stithton from the Ohio river valley and I have spent the week in running tentative traverses up this hill.

Rough and rocky, steep and timbered, but we are "carrying on" and energy and determination give us strength.

One could hardly stay here without absorbing the energetic air of the "boys in khaki". An aeroplane above us this afternoon, with their nose dives and tail spins, furnished hair-raising enthusiasm and made us realize that our part on the ground was small and insignificant.

A brand new Curtiss, with Liberty motor, planes glistening in the sun, and the red, white and blue horizontal rudder, symbolizing liberty and victory, augmented by the white and blue circles on the planes, was a sight that is beyond my power to describe.

Twenty-four planes have just arrived at West Point and the mechanics are assembling them as fast as possible. The hangers are already up and the landing fields ready, so by the last of next week, things should be ready for battle practice and bomb formations of planes in the air.

This aviation field at West Point is only temporary, as the main field is to be at Stithton. I laid it out three weeks ago, and have the honor of being the only man in my department that could be trusted with this important work.—Thus sayeth Mr. Ehrenborg.

Today we passed through the battle front between Rheims and Metz in miniature. This is where the officers "play war". Little houses about two feet square are placed as they stand in reality and the trenches and listening posts and dugouts are located as they are on the front.

Lines of bricks laid end to end define the railroads and highways and stakes driven in the ground every four feet, outline the "firing on the clock" system of point location. I went into one of the dugouts and there I found a slit about four inches high and two feet long to look through.

An alidade, with two sights, was pivoted at the outermost end and by swinging this the angle of any point could be determined. A second dugout a known distance from the first, was equipped likewise and by a simultaneous observation from these two points, the angle of any point, and, by trigonometry, the distance can be readily determined. Thus do the artillerymen learn to locate the target, and after three shots, are able to place the exploding shell where they wish. The first shot is for line, the second, for trajectory and the third for detonation or explosion, so that upon the fourth shot they can fire and explode a shell upon any point they wish.

The artillery range is alive with the reports of "French 75's" and machine guns, from eight in the morning until four in the afternoon, and the observation balloons are up four and five thousand feet all the while, recording the hits and mapping the country.

This war is some game; fascinating, alluring, wonderful. The men here, about 8,000 are taking intensive training and work ten hours a day. They are a fine lot of fellows, physically, and morally, clean fresh and strong."

Either success or failure comes to those who stray away from the beaten paths.—Winnipeg Telegram.

DRASTIC STEP

TAKEN AGAINST THE INFLUENZA.

Lancaster and Garrard county are complying to the letter and the spirit of the order sent out last Monday by the State Board of Health, closing all public meeting places in an effort to arrest the spread of the influenza epidemic and to hold contagion to a minimum in this county. The action was recommended by the Garrard County Council of Defense at a meeting held in the court house last Monday evening.

The City Council of the city has issued a proclamation, ordering the closing of all schools, churches, pool-rooms and picture shows in the city and the Board of Trustees of the Lancaster Graded and High School ordered the school closed last Tuesday, until next Monday or later, should the epidemic be not under control by that time.

A few cases of the epidemic have been reported in the county and everything known to science will be used in an endeavor to stop spread in its infancy.

Miss Jennie Higgins, County School Superintendent, has ordered all schools of the county closed until further notice in conforming to the orders of the State Board of Health.

There will be no Sunday schools or church services at any of the churches of the county next Sunday and the same will be true of all the churches in Lancaster.

The proclamation issued by the State Board of Health last Monday is as follows:

"Upon urgent official advice from the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, who is acting in full co-operation with the Surgeon General of the Army and National Council of Defense, and based upon such a rapid spread of influenza as to endanger the health and lives of the civil population over the entire country, as well as all military operations and the industrial activities equally essential to the success of the war, and in virtue of authority vested in it by law the State Board of Health of Kentucky hereby issues its proclamation closing all places of amusement, schools, churches and other places of assembly and advises against and discourages all unnecessary travel and social visiting in this commonwealth until the epidemic is over. Signed,

DR. JOHN G. SOUTH, Pres.,
DR. J. N. McCORMACK, Secy.,
Bowling Green, Ky. Oct. 6th, 1918."

INFLUENZA

An Advisory Proclamation by the State Board of Health.

Whereas, INFLUENZA, a highly infectious disease, in a severe and fatal form, is wide spread in the Atlantic coast states, and being caused only by the easily recognized Pfeiffer germ which is spread along lines of travel, and in communities and families, only by coughing and sneezing people who ought to be in bed or in their rooms, has been brought to Kentucky and, not being an officially quarantinable disease, threatens to and is likely to become a widespread epidemic in Kentucky unless the prompt and intelligent cooperation of the people can be secured in combating it, and,

Whereas, The precautions here advised, important as to coughs and colds, are made especially so in the emergency now upon us for the protection at all times of our soldiers with thousands being called to the colors by the selective draft to reach the camps within the next few weeks, as well as farmers, industrial operatives and the noble women daily laboring for the support and comfort of our own and the allied armies, and,

Whereas, The control of this disease, if successful, must come from an educated public sentiment which will patriotically demand the voluntary and systematic isolation in his home or in a hospital during the prevalence of the disease in any community, of every person who is afflicted with cough and sneezing, and especially that such person shall not enter or remain in any public conveyance, picture shows, or other assembly until the disease is under control, and that, therefore,

Be it resolved, That this Board, in the discharge of a manifest public duty and by virtue of authority vested in it by law, hereby urges that all patriotic people who show symptoms of this disease, promptly isolate themselves in their homes, for the protection of the public, and in their rooms for the protection of their families, and that a mask of two thicknesses of gauze or cheese cloth be worn over the mouth and nose where for any reason such isolation cannot be made complete; it advises people to keep away from all places of assembly in any community where the disease is prevailing; and it hereby expressly forbids public funerals for those dead of the disease and forbids itinerant shows of every kind from entering or making exhibits within the limits of this Commonwealth. If these precautions are demanded by public sentiment and systematically carried out by every family and community, there need be little cause for alarm, and the disease will soon be under control.

By authority of the Board.

KHAKI COLUMN

Cards have been received by relatives and friends, telling of the safe arrival "over there" of Oscar Beazley, of Stanford, Ky., Route 4.

The above is a fair likeness of Sergt. John William Swope, third and youngest son of Mrs. Bright Herring, from whom she has received word that he has arrived safely overseas. He belongs to the well known Lincoln Division commanded by Maj. Gen. Hale, composed of some of the best trained Kentucky and Indiana boys, known as the 84th Division. "Over there".

His address is Hg. Co., 335th Reg., 84th Division, A. E. F.
Mrs. Herring feels justly proud of having three sons in the service.

The following letter from Henry T. Grimes, of the county, who is "Somewhere in France", has been received by his sister and family. "Somewhere in France" Aug. 25, 18.

Dear Sis and family:—
Will try and answer your most welcome letter that came to hand a few days ago and will say that this leaves me in good health as always and of course you will know that we arrived over seas safely. We are located in a camp, nice place and are working hard every day as usual, preparing to do our little bit when our time comes and I hope it won't be so long at that, for this is one job that the boys are all anxious to get finished up and when it is over it is the good old U. S. A., for me, for there isn't anything over here that looks good to me, of course, I guess we haven't seen the best of France, but gee sis, you ought to see them over here, they are about a hundred years behind the times, or they seem that way to me. They work oxen and drive one horse high wheel carts tandem style and cut grain with a cycle in the old fashioned way. Nothing like the good old states, so believe me I sure will be back in the good old states when this is over. Oh, yes, don't forget to send me that picture of you and the baby. I sure would love to see it. I bet I could spoil it for you. Very glad you named him for me. I haven't any pictures of myself just at present so can't send you any and don't think there is any place to get one taken.

From all the reports that come back from the front, things are going good and all in our favor, so it may not be so long before we come home again and I can tell you things so much better than I can write them. I would have written sooner but we have all been so busy since we left over there that we haven't had time, but will try to do better in the future so don't forget to answer real soon, Sister dear, and don't forget to send me that picture of the baby. I am as ever, with love and good wishes

Your loving Brother,
Henry T. Grimes,
Battery A., 322 F. A.,
Am. Ex. Forces.

The following interesting letters to his sister and brother have been received from Lucien Grant, aboard the U. S. S. Stevens.

"Friday the 6th.
Dear Frances:—
I hope you will excuse me if I write nothing interesting, but the only happenings of which I know are those which censorship regulations do not permit me to tell you. Really, tho, I haven't had any very exciting experiences: I haven't seen a single real German sub. But there have been sinkings all around here and fairly frequently: 2 last Sunday, 1 Monday and 1 yesterday.

I wish you could see this country, more for the quaintness of everything than anything else. The girls dress very much like American girls, except that most of them wear a tamoshanter (usually red), sitting on their head at an angle of about 45 degrees. The boys wear knickerbocker trousers and yarn stockings which they fold over just below the knees, leaving them bare. And funnier still are the little caps resembling those of baseball players which they stick on the back of their head.

I have just begun to be able to understand the Irish jargon a little. At first I could hardly get a word.

Whenever I play golf, I always have a good time talking to my caddy, if I am lucky enough to get one that will talk. One thing I have noticed, the average Irish have far more color than any American. They say it's due to the climate, but I can't see that continuous rain would cause that.

I am going to try to get a few days leave and see Killarney's lakes and mountains. Then when we go to Liverpool for any length of time, (if we do) I'll have to go down to London.

I do wish I could see you—it seems far more than three months since I left Annapolis with you all.

Write and tell me all the news. It's been five weeks since I received one so you can't write too many.

I just happened to think that your school will have started when you get this. Don't you want to take music lessons; I'll pay for them. Let me know. With lots of love,
Lucien.

Dear Bowman:—
I have been here 23 days now, and not a word from any of you yet; in fact, it has been nearly six weeks since I heard last. There is still hope left within me, tho, and it is stronger than ever.

I haven't written very often myself, I must admit, for I have been at sea most of the time and then when I'm not on watch or working, all I feel like is turning in and snoozing. We have been in for several days this time, but it has rained every day so I have gone ashore only once. That one time I attended a Garden Fete at the Admiralty House here, held for the benefit of the Red Cross. There was dancing and besides that every known kind of game to take your money. The beautiful Irish lace and other pieces of handwork were just a bit too dear for me. I was in Liverpool one day last week on the Stevens. Of course I went over in the city and looked around. I tried to make some purchases, such as shirts, collars etc, but besides finding everything about 50 per cent higher than in the States, I was unable to get what I wanted. The crowds there in the stores and streets makes it awfully hard to navigate.

A contingent of American troops had arrived that morning and were marching thru the city from the docks to the camp on the outskirts. All the population turned out and cheered them, and I saw just about as many little American flags as I ever saw at one time.

Write me a long letter, Bowman, and tell me all your doings. Give my love to Mother and Grandpa. I shall write Francis a short letter tho I haven't a thing to tell.

Your Brother,
Lucien."

The following letter from Private Grover Huffman, telling of the splendid work of the Red Cross, which must be a great inspiration to the ladies of the Local Chapter, is gladly printed in these columns that others may see and hear of the work being done by the American Red Cross. To the Central Record, Lancaster, K.

As I have a little spare time this morning I will write a few lines in regards to the Red Cross workers. I left Camp Shelby Miss., Sept. 12, 1918, and am now in Camp Mills, N. Y. I feel it my duty to write a few lines for the benefit of the Red Cross workers to the U. S. Soldiers. They are a friend to every boy that wears the khaki. They treated the boys at almost every town from Camp Shelby to N. Y. They gave us fruit of all kinds and iced tea and cakes. I write for the purpose of the people helping the ladies that are doing their bit for the boys that are fighting for their freedom and for the dear old red, white and blue. I think it is the best thing that the people can do. It helps the boys to enjoy their trip, I know by experience. I hope that the people will take more interest in the Red Cross workers.

I remain, as ever,
your friend,
Private Grover Huffman,
H. D. Q., Co. 149 Infantry,
Camp Mills, N. Y.

The following letter to his mother, Mrs. Mason Holtzclaw, from her son, Howard, who is now in France, will be eagerly read by his friends back home. "Somewhere in France" Sept. 5th. Dear Mother:—
I will take the pleasure to drop you a few lines this beautiful morning. I guess you thought I was never going to write you. I have been out for three weeks and couldn't write. This leaves me well as usual, and I hope it will find you all the same.

Well mother, what is every body doing around home? Busy I guess. We are very busy hunting the Huns, and are finding a few. It is very interesting too. This is sure some nice weather we are having at present, altho it is not as warm here as it is in the States. The mosquitoes are very bad at night, but we boys can catch them. The war is progressing nicely but can't tell when it will be over. I hope it will be over real soon, so we can come back to our dear old no-nacs. Well Mother, give my best regards to all of my friends and tell all to write to me for I sure do like to receive lots of mail. I will close for this time by asking you all to remember me in your prayers. So write me a long letter soon.

Your loving son,
Howard.

COLORED SOLDIER DIES.

Elbert Rice who for many years drove the delivery wagon for Theo Currey, died at Camp Taylor yesterday morning after a few days illness of influenza. He was a son of Nannie Rice of this city and this is the second son she has lost since our entry into the war. Her other son, Joe Rice, having died at Camp Taylor last spring.

Elbert had only been in the service a short while, having left here with the last contingent of colored boys about three weeks ago.

He was a good boy and his death will be learned with regret by his friends here, both white and colored.

MACCABEES TO MEET.

The Maccabee Tent of this city has been invited to attend a celebration of the order at Junction City on October 16th, where they will celebrate and present to Commander M. F. Elkin, a handsome trophy, which he has recently won, by securing more members to this honorable body than all other contestants, he having won by more than 300 per cent over his nearest competitors.

Grand Commander D. P. Markey, will attend this meeting and present the trophy. We are prepared to say that a happy and eloquent response will be made by Commander Elkin, whose untiring work has meant so much for the order in Kentucky.

OUR RECORD.

Human scepticism tends to increase. The proportion of suckers to the population has changed since Barnum's epigram. Or perhaps he overestimated human gullibility.

Anyhow, our fellowmen show a growing reluctance to take us at our own valuation. If we tell them that we are clever, we had better do something clever to prove it. Not that they disbelieve us. They want to be spared the fatigue of analyzing our professions.

If we say that our intentions are excellent when our conduct looks suspicious, they want to look up our record. America's motive for going to war is praiseworthy, but does our record bear out this claim?

Here the allies have an advantage. Measure Uncle Sam's treatment of Cuba and the Philippines. Use a micrometer, corrosive acids, high-power lenses—all the mechanical and chemical tests in the range of science, and try to find some ingredient of selfishness in his conduct. The record is A—1.

After Napoleon's defeat England might have despoiled France, held Paris for ransom, levied vast fines and devastated towns. Blucher, the Prussian, did, as a matter of history, try to bring about the execution of Napoleon—and a few other reprisals. Instead, the British assisted the French to restore a staple government to France and peace to all Europe.

Then look at the military history of Germany, from Schleswig to Picardy. It is one progressive record of plunder. Levying huge fines on cities whose only offense is to have been captured—this is Germany's hereditary tradition. No other nation in modern times underlies such a reproach.

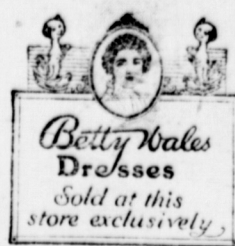

Our record is as material an asset as our wheatfields and mines. It is up to us to keep its value unimpaired.

WATCH OUT NOW

FOR CATARRH!

This is catarrh time, and you want to be on your guard. You may already have it and not know it.

It may have started with what you thought was a cold and a light dropping in your throat. If so, it will get into your stomach, throat and bowels before you realize it and infect the mucous membrane, which should be kept in the most healthful condition.

Vin Hepatica is the only thing to take this time of year, not for relieving catarrh, but for fortifying the system against it. It has a very soothing and healing effect upon the mucous membrane.

It goes at once to the seat of the trouble and assists nature in restoring the membrane to its normal condition, thoroughly cleanses and tones up the entire system. Come in and get a bottle now.

HIS IDEA

LIBERTY BONDS

NICHOLAS M. BUTLER

Each Liberty Bond is equivalent to a service stripe for the Army. Every true American, therefore, can fight or not, till he has bought a Liberty Bond in order to assist in the Grand Army of Liberty.

Thousands See French "75s" on Loan War Trains

Thousands of persons in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania had their first glimpse this week of one of the famous French "75" guns. The "75" was the gun which backed up the historic words, "Thou Shalt Not Pass!"

The guns are aboard Uncle Sam's Trophy Trains which are touring the Fourth Federal Reserve District in the interest of the Fourth Liberty Loan. They are scarred from battle and rear above the flat cars in all the majesty of the heroes that they are—for without the "chorus" of them and their brothers the words of the gallant French would have been empty and the Germans would now be in Paris—yes, even in New York, perhaps.

At every stop the two trains have made thousands of persons have crowded through to see the trophies taken from the battlefields.

Hun helmets, medals and guns attract the most attention. The trains also have aboard outfits of the American fighters and their allies, depth bombs, aerial bombs and all of the curiosities of modern warfare.

THE PROMISED LAND.

The Anglo-Saxons colonized America for the benefit of the Jews. This at any rate, has long been the conviction of many an envious anti-Semite.

The Jews colonized the Holy Land for the ultimate benefit of the Anglo-Saxons, but the ultimate beneficiaries, under General Allenby, have arrived rather late. The "vineyards which ye planted not" are yielding only a meagre harvest today.

To many of us in America the Syrian and Mesopotamian campaigns have only a secondary importance. We see their sentimental rather than their strategic significance, and to take shots at the Kaiser from Nazareth or the Garden of Eden is long-range marksmanship the effectiveness of which is not discernible to every eye.

Have we forgotten the boast that came from Berlin when Constantinople became accessible to Germany by alliance with Bulgaria? "An empire extending from the North Sea to the Persian Gulf can never be blockaded" was the pronouncement, but the empire's boundaries are narrower today. If the allies continue their advance in Syria and Mesopotamia they will soon hold a line extending from the Black Sea to the Mediterranean, locking the eastern door of Asia Minor.

Moreover it has lately been declared by Professor Scott and other grain experts that the Mesopotamian wheat crop can provide abundantly for the allied armies. And since the Garden of Eden is no longer needed to support Adam's immediate family circle, it may as well feed those of his remoter progeny as are worth preserving. It would be a mistake to let any of its produce appease appetites at Potsdam.

GERMANY'S SINS

IN THIS WAR.

Terrific Indictments of Hun Paractices By Methodist Bishop.

The following terrific indictment of Germany at war is from Bishop Quayle of the Methodist church, in an address recently delivered in Chicago.

"Let us set down sternly we are at war with the Germans, not the junkers, not autocracy, not Prussians, not the Kaiser. All that is camouflage and dangerous because it obscures the truth. The German people is what we war with. The German people is committing the unspeakable horror which set the whole world aghast. The German people has not been conducting war but murder. A district federal court of New York declared the sinking of the Lusitania an act of piracy. Piracy is not war. All decency, honors, humanites, international agreements and laws have been smashed by them day and night from the first rape of Belgium to now. New atrocity which recently appeared was spraying prisoners with burning oil. This is Germany's most recent jest. It makes them laugh so!

"Germany has ravished the women of Belgium, Serbia, Rumania, Poland, Armenia; Germany murdered the passengers of the Lusitania and struck a medal to celebrate that German triumph dating it two days before the horrible occurrence; Germany has ruined cathedrals and cities in sheer wanton fury in such fashion as has not been done in all the wars waged in Europe since the days of the building of cathedrals; Germany has poisoned wells, crucified inhabitants and soldiers, burned people in their homes, and this by system; Germany has denatured boys and men, has wantonly defaced the living, the dying and the dead. An eyewitness tells of seeing women dead at a table with their tongues nailed to the table and left to die.

"Germany has stolen things little and big, playthings from children, finery from women, pictures of incalculable worth, bank deposits, railroads, factories; Germany has sunk hospital ships, has bombed hospitals and Red Cross camps; Germany has disclosed neither decency nor honor from the day it started the war, nor has a single voice in Germany to date been lifted up against the orgies or ruthlessness which turn the soul sick and constitute the chiefest barbarity of history; Germany remains unblushing and unconscious of its indecency; Germany's egotism struts like a knaizer, and, to climax its horrid crimes, Germany has indicted compulsory polygamy or the virgins of its own land

You Understand This?

Not to perceive is the gift which softens the prospect for man who in his present, in his intimacies, in his necessities, sees more than suits his happiness, but who for his prospects finds radiance only softening and in its mellowing gaining glory, who looks for his greatest good in the west and seeks the deep purple with an illusioned soul.—Chicago Tribune.

Ancients Played Ball.

Baseball "fans" will be interested to know that Egypt is the birthplace of the original ball game. How it was played history does not record. Recent excavations made near Cairo have brought to light a number of small balls, some of leather and others of wood, dating back to at least 2000 B. C. These are the oldest balls of this sort known.

How Betty Helped.

Betty heard her father say at the breakfast table, after having sat up late the night before, writing for a lecture: "I could have filled another page with case if I hadn't been so tired, but I guess this will have to do." In a few moments Betty emerged from the library with a piece of paper covered with the letter "E." "Now, daddy," she exclaimed, "don't worry; I filled the page for you!"

Valuable Brick Material.
The slime which accumulates at the various mines in the Kolar gold fields, in India, is now being mixed with clay and made into bricks, instead of being treated as a waste product, as heretofore. The bricks made in this way are said to be superior to those acquired from outside sources and are used extensively in lining circular shafts and other construction work carried on by the mining companies. Later on it is proposed to make fire brick, clay crucibles, and artificial stone.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

a member of the B. Y. P. U. of the Mt. Tabor church, being the first to be called to his reward since its organization about three years ago. Hayes decided to offer his services to his country in defense of the flag and so joined the Navy. After two and one half months of training at the Great Lakes training school, he was stricken with the now dreaded malady—influenza—which soon developed into pneumonia, and the young life went out Oct. 2nd 1918. His remains were brought home and after funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by his pastor, Rev. C. S. Ellis at the Church in the presence of a great throng of sympathizing friends his body was laid to rest in the Paint Lick cemetery. We commend the sorrowing relatives and friends to him who said "Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted."

The Germany that lifts protesting voice against use by American troops of so-called shotguns because they are "contrary to the rules of civilized warfare," says the Lexington Herald, is the same Germany that sought to asphyxiate whole armies with poisonous gas, that defiled water supplies of entire provinces; that transfixed babes on bayonets; that nailed children to barn doors and stabbed to death the honor of French and Belgian maidens by lechery so foul and debauchery so damnable that the devils of hell will shrink from their own when these malefactors come to judgment.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF LAND.

Plants Travel by Air.

In Porto Rico, where the atmosphere is moist and balmy, air plants often lodge in the most unusual places and produce some weird effects while growing. Frequently they establish themselves on telephone and telegraph wires. The insulation rots in places and the plants take root, grow and thrive.

Comb Old Toilet Adjunct.

Combs have been used in the toilet since very ancient times. The Greek, the Egyptian and the Roman ladies used them to arrange and hold up their hair; even ladies among the Swiss lake-dwellers seem to have been familiar with them. Some of these were made of wood, some of bone, of horn or of ivory. Specimens have often been found in recent years.

Full Explanation.

Jack received a small tool chest for his birthday. Daddy had explained to him the names and uses of each tool. Later he had a neighbor in and was extolling the virtues of his set. "Just look what I got—a hammer to hammer with; a saw to saw with; a hatchet to chop with;" (after examining very closely the monkey wrench) "Well, Bob, this is not a regular tool, it's a — (then, as the name dawned upon him) wrench to monkey with."

Both Inventions of Americans.

There is an English proverb which commends as a cure "a hair of the dog that bit you." And it is an interesting fact, though hardly a coincidence, if national inventive characteristics be borne in mind, that one of the most deadly man-killing machines, which the world owes to the genius of one American, the late Sir Hiram Maxim, should have found its antidote—the "tank"—in a device directly inspired by the invention of a compatriot, Mr. Benjamin Holt.

In One's Own Sphere.

Not one of us would be happy if we assumed another's place. We are fitted only for our own little world, and it remains with us to make that tiny sphere what it ought to be. This we may do if we keep cheerful, do our best and think only wholesome thoughts. Otherwise we simply will not, no matter what we may eventually possess, be happy, and the quicker we acknowledge the truth of the assertion the better it will be for ourselves and for all concerned.
